

PATH FORWARD CONSULTING

SHIFTING BEHAVIOR FROM INTENTION TO IMPACT

SHAUNTE NEWBY, CPC

Shaunté is a Senior Consultant with Path Forward Consulting. In this role she identifies, communicates, and develops scalable solutions and strategies in human resources, talent management, diversity and inclusion.

Her experience includes leadership roles in human resources, business operations, business development, project control, finance, IT and post-M&A integration. She has served as a consultant in planning, process improvement, management and operations efficiency. Within Path Forward Consulting, she is a team lead on assessment design, development, implementation and monitoring. She is assigned to many of the most complex client engagements due to her systems thinking approach and innovative problem-solving skills. In addition to having launched and led an award-winning Employee Resource Group (ERG) at a Fortune 500 company, Shaunté leverages that expertise in her work with clients' ERGs and diversity councils.

Shaunté holds an MBA in Business Management and the credential as a Certified Professional Coach from the Institute for Professional Excellence in Coaching. She has a bachelor's degree in Business Operations and Information Technology. Her career began with Computer Science Corporation in IT Consulting, where her clients spanned various industries, including but not limited to, government, defense, entertainment, real estate and financial services. Her diverse career path has afforded her opportunities with progressive levels of responsibility including being the Chief of Staff to the CEO of Leidos.

In her spare time, she enjoys being on the open road on her Harley.
